Historical Resources Development Program Grants Awarded

Recently, the Iowa Department of Cultural Affairs (IDCA) awarded two Historical Resources Development Program (HRDP) grants to projects in the SICOG region. SICOG staff assisted in the preparation of applications for the restoration of the cupola of the Bedford/Taylor County Round Barn and a National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) nomination for the Winterset City Park. These projects are designed to preserve historical resources.

The Round Barn is owned by the Taylor County Historical Society and located at the Taylor County Museum in Bedford. This NRHP structure, built over 100 years ago, is one of only a few remaining round barns in Iowa and is a popular site for weddings and many other events. The failing cupola roof system put it in danger and the Society had to close access to the building last fall. The grant of $50,000 will pay roughly half the costs of restoring it and adding some structural elements to prevent the problem from recurring.

Winterset City Park is a wonderful historic and natural landscape. Over the past few years, several parties have performed analysis of buildings and other elements of the park in preparation of nomination as a Historic Place. This nomination, upon completion, will open the way for grant funding and other incentives to preserve contributing structures and landscapes. Only a few parks and landscapes in Iowa are listed in the NRHP, so this project is unique. The $9,600 grant will fund a preservation consultant, who will lead volunteers in the preparation of the nomination.

The HRDP grant is due annually in April. Contact SICOG for assistance with your historic preservation, museum, or documentary collection preservation project. We are experienced with this grant.

A View From the First Tee

Providing low cost quality homes is a concern of the SICOG region and of many other rural areas in Iowa. I want to share the article below, written by Matt O'Brien, which outlines an approach to address this need.

Homes For Iowa Launches Project

This article is a reprint from The North Iowa Area COG Newsletter - Matt O'Brien

Homes for Iowa, Inc., is a recently formed nonprofit with the mission of providing low-cost quality homes for rural areas in need of workforce housing while also providing incarcerated individuals a highly-valuable trade skill and/or certified apprenticeship credit. On June 20, 2019, Iowa Gov. Kim Reynolds and Lt. Gov. Adam Gregg were on hand for the official launch of the Homes for Iowa project at the Newton Correctional Facility and the commemorative driving of the first nails.

"In Iowa, we believe in second chances and building futures. Homes for Iowa is a common-sense solution that will close the housing gap in rural Iowa while bringing a new pool of talent to the workforce and open doors for Iowans on the road to redemption," said Gov. Kim Reynolds. "Once again, Iowa's powerful public-private partnerships are coming together to make this concept a reality that will benefit Iowans."

"Homes for Iowa is a creative way to solve multiple problems at once. It will help close a gap in our workforce, transition offenders back into society, and move the needle on the rural housing shortage," said Lt. Gov. Gregg. "This is yet another step in empowering the rural parts of our state."

The Newton Correctional Facility will be home to the project that will start building affordable housing and provide inmates with job training to use once they are released from incarceration. Inmates will gain valuable skills through the program that can translate to successful careers in the construction industry where there exists high demand for skilled tradesmen.

The Iowa Finance Authority has awarded Homes for Iowa $1.2M to assist in the construction of the first 20 homes that will soon be under construction. The Iowa Council of Governments will oversee the local process of obtaining a home and will work with potential buyers through the project closeout. The COG's may also be a resource for down payment assistance.

The first four homes are to be delivered to Marshalltown as a way to help with housing shortages caused by the July 2018 tornado. As the project ramps up, we will keep you posted as to the availability of getting homes designated for southern Iowa. Stay tuned...

As always, if there is anything I can do, please let me know. Our phone number is 641.782.8491. Remember, we are working for you.

In the Spotlight

The Community of Afton

SICOG and Afton have partnered on multiple projects including the City Park's splash pad and basketball court, downtown building improvements, sidewalks, and recreational fields.

What unique characteristics are you proud of in Afton?

Afton is "Small Town Friendly." We have a lot of things to offer for such a small town with a population of only 845. We have a great mayor and council and they have been very proactive on making things happen in Afton! We built a new community center that opened in 2012, updated our entrance signage on the north and south side of town along Highway 169 & 34, added a splash pad to the park in 2015, and added new surface and hoops to the basketball court in the park. Our park is very busy in the summer and we receive many compliments from families who stop by and use the park. Afton has a great Recreation Board and they have updated everything at our ball field facility and keep it looking very nice. Our East Union Community School is located just east of Afton and is a combination of Afton, Arispe, Lorimor, Shannon City, and Thayer. Our school system is the best and we have wonderful teachers and administrators, along with a new elementary facility attached to the high school. We are all very proud of our little community and school!

What is Afton's claim to fame?

Our motto is "Meet you, greet you, and treat you on the Square." The Afton Community Club holds Lawn Chair nights every Tuesday in the summer with a meal and entertainment in the evening. They also sponsor a movie in the park at night in June and sponsor the car/truck show during the Pre-4th. The Afton Lion's Club holds the Pre-4th Celebration in the park every year offering meals, entertainment, inflatables, kids' games, and door prizes.

Can you tell us about a successful project or partnership in Afton?

Our most talked about project has been the splash pad in the park. We receive lots of calls from other communities every year wanting details on how we did our project and what the cost was. It took us 2 years of getting grants and holding fundraisers to make it happen, but the project has been very successful in bringing out-of-town people to our park as well as being used a lot by our residents.

What projects are you working on now in Afton?

We are currently working on renovating a small building that the local VFW gave us and making it into a new Wi-Fi gathering spot. Our other big project is fixing up our sidewalks. We worked on the East Filmore sidewalks in 2016 and it is now safe to walk from the middle of town east to connect to our walking trail that was completed in 2007. We are trying to do a large project on the west side of town now.

If you were asked to give a tour of your community, what would you show your visitors?

I would show them our town square with all the different businesses and the park in the middle with all the playground equipment, shelters, basketball court and splash pad. Next, I would take them by our walking trail and the fairgrounds on the way out to the East Union School and Afton Recreation Complex. I would make sure to drive them out by Lakeshore Golf & Country Club, which is a beautiful and challenging 9 hole golf course, and next to the Afton Lake, which has a small playground, dock, rock jetty and great fishing. I would take them north out of Afton four miles to Three-Mile Lake where there are 2 campgrounds, cabin rentals, gazebos/shelters, a lodge, fishing, boating/skiing and beach area for swimming. I would end with taking them to eat at one of our many fine restaurants where we could choose from Mexican/Italian/American, Barbeque, Bar & Grill, or deli & soup.

What do you want people to know about Afton that they might not already know?

We have the best volunteer fire department! We are very proud of all our volunteer firefighters and are very lucky to have them. They are always training and updating equipment to keep the volunteers safe and provide the best fire and emergency response team around!

Do you have a website or social media links for Afton that you would like for us to share?

We have a website at www.aftoniowa.com and are on Facebook – you can like our page by searching for City of Afton.

If your community has a problem that outside funding might address, please contact your SICOG office. We would be glad to help and can attend a local meeting at no cost to our members discuss the project or idea.

From the Planner's Desk...

My Planning Philosophy

Seven and a half weeks ago I graduated college with a bachelor's degree in Environmental Science and Community & Regional Planning. Three and a half weeks ago I started my first job out of college as the new Transportation Planner at Southern Iowa Council of Governments. Throughout college, professors tried to guide myself and my classmates toward creating our own personal planning philosophies. My job as a research assistant for a project that focused on finding the keys to economic resilience in metropolitan, micropolitan, and small towns/rural areas played a huge part in developing my planning ideas and priorities as well.

Since half of my degree is in environmental science, my philosophy is influenced by environmental issues such as water quality, air quality, conservation, climate change, etc. However, a plan that only addresses environmental concerns will fail along with the community it is intended to help. This is true if you only consider the economic concerns or the social concerns of a community as well.

My planning philosophy is based on a sustainable planning idea that places complete sustainability at a center point between economic resilience, environmental resilience, and social resilience. Every plan should be an attempt to shift a community towards that center point with special emphasis on the economic, environmental, or social aspects depending on the needs of the community. In all cases, these three parts of life are interconnected and will rise together or fall together so addressing each issue is vital for community resilience.

I hope to be able use these ideas to improve the lives of residents of the communities I will be working with during my time with SICOG.

Iowa Retail Initiative Can Assist Rural Iowa Economy

The Iowa Retail Initiative is an Iowa State University Extension initiative to bring expertise and tools to rural Iowa small businesses, primarily in the retail sector. Three programs are offered: IRI Champions, IRI Coaching, and IRI Snapshots. These programs bring in various experts to assist local retailers.

The IRI Champions Workshop provides training and resources for community decision makers and small business supporters. In a session, participants will learn to assess existing and future retail needs, evaluate retail district amenities, maximize local social media, and identify retail niches. Interestingly, the very first IRI Champions Workshop was held in Lenox.

IRI Coaching works one-on-one with specific retailers, preparing them for success with technical assistance and training to tackle issues preventing business growth. Topics specific to each participating business are addressed.

IRI Snapshots trains local leaders to collect and analyze place-based information about their retail districts. Participants of this new tool can use tools to map their retail districts, inventory retail conditions, and employ collected data to drive decision-making.
